DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 7/04 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim1-23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takao et al [6627696] in view of Swidler [5411833] and Elmasry et al [4925766]. Takao et al teaches a dispersion composition comprising a particulate material insoluble in organic solvent in a liquid developer (wet toner). The dispersion composition improves the problem of sedimentation for liquid developers note Col. 2 lines 1-5. This is done by the steric repulsive force of the polymer in an organic liquid having a resistivity of not less than $10^9 \Omega \cdot \text{cm}$ such as silicon solvents note Col. 2 lines 29-40. The Mol. Wt is taught in Col. 4 as 370-15000. The polar groups can be basic or acidic note Col 3 & 4. Colorants are taught in Col. 9. Various additives known such as surface active agents, anti-skinning agents, leveling agents and electric charge adjusting agents such as metallic soaps can be added to the liquid toners. The known metallic soaps as charge control agents are taught by Elmasry note Col. 1 line 35 to improve the dispersion stability of the liquid toner. The stabilizer is taught in Col. 7- Col. 11. Charge directors are taught in Col. 11 –Col. 14 and show various polar groups in stabilizing the toner in a carrier liquid note Col. 15. Swidler teaches liquid developers having charge control agents with various polar groups that improve the multicolor image development. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicants' invention with a reasonable expectation of success to use the known additives of the liquid toners with the dispersion facilitating material as taught to improve the stability of the liquid developer.
